A man in a brown trench coat, a dark fedora, and glasses stands in the center of a train car. He is looking slightly upwards and to the right. To his left, a woman in a grey coat and hat is partially visible, looking towards him. To his right, a woman in a red vest and white shirt is seen from the back, holding a large loaf of bread. In the foreground on the right, a man in a green military cap is seen from the back. The train car has yellow walls and windows. The scene is dimly lit, suggesting an indoor or nighttime setting.
